Washington, Feb. 24, 1816). Secretary Carlisle has furnished the silver democrats with a wedge that will be used to split the democratic party, at the Chicago convention. This wedge the auti-silver democrats in the Kentucky legislature to vote for Blackburn to sacrifice their belief in the interests of party harmony. It is thought by some that this letter was deliberately planned as the first step towards a bolt on the part of the administration democrats should the silver democrats control the Brown, after two months of silence, has Chicago convention, but if that be correct those administration democrats who have been working so hard to get the silver democrats to commit themselves in advance to the support of the candidate and platform of the Chicago convention were not taken into Secretary Carlisle's their work, and the silver democrats are now saying among themselves that they will be justified in bolting the convention if they can't control it, and some of them have gone so far as to announce their intention of doing so. Mr. Carlisle's letter is taken to mean that the administration men intend to bolt if they don't control the convention. So the split seems inevitable. There are numerous members of both house and senate who are of the opinion that Secretary Carlisle placed himself to a position that is almost, if not quite, criminal, when he sold the Morgan syntook up the consideration of the legisla- dicate the bonds upon which the original tive, executive and judicial appropriation bidders failed to make the first payment bill, thus temporarily postponing the Cu- at the stipulated time, at a price just six cents on the dollar less than they could have been sold for in the open market. The conservative members of congress are loth to authorize an avestigation, because of the fear that a teasury scandal might be productive of much more harm to the country than its expective could possibly do good. Notwithstanding the abuse showered upon the republicans of North Carolina to the democrats of that and other states the populists which resulted in wresting the state from democratic control and in the election of two United States senstors, one a populist and the other a republican, the democratic leaders of North Carolina are now trying to entice the populists to combine with them against the republicans. A number of prominent democrats from that state are now in Washington conferring with Senator Marion Butler, and Dr. Mott, who is in charge of the silver party's campaign. the boundary dispute between Great Brithe North Carolina populist leaders. Free silver and white supremacy are advanced by these democrats as the foundation stones of the proposed new deal. Ex-Congressman McDuffle, of Alabama s enthusiastic over republican prospects in that state. He said: "All elements will be united in Alabama this year to defeat the organized democracy. The fusion will consist of the republicans and populists, under the banner of fair elections and protection to home industries, and there will be no disaffection in our ranks. This will be the first good chance the republicans have had to do anything in state politics in twenty years or more, and we propose to take advantage of the opportunity. The presidential electors will be equally divided between the populists and the republicans." Speaker Reed has succeeded in keeping the ex-members of congress, who are engaged in lobbying, off the floor of the house to a greater extent than has ever been done before. The rules give exmembers of both branches of congress the privilege of the floor, but the rules also say that this privilege can only be enjoyed by those who are not interested in the legislation. Early in the present session Speaker Reed instructed the dooring of the senate committee on foreign ber not provided with a pass signed by relations was held to-day for the purpose the speaker, and to send all who applied the speaker, and to send all who applied for admission without a pass, to him. A large number of men who are now holding position in the general offices of the company here will be thrown out of employment to this change, and their places filled by others at Albuquerque. There is a great deal of speculation among railroad men as to the significance of this important movement, but it is the general opinion here that there has been ome kind of an understanding between the Santa Fe company and the Atlanto & Pacific people that when the road is sold the former will allow it to go into the hands of the bond holders, to be run as an independent organization. They say if this were not the case the receiver would not make all these important changes, just for the little time that the road is to remain under the receivership The new order will make a radical change in the condition of affairs, and throw ; large amount of business to Albuquerque that is now done here.
